MORNING DRIVE TIME

Radio's scam artists are back

JOHNNY HANSON : STAFF

Come Monday, it's a new station but same ol' funny Dean and Rog

WITH no one to hang on their every word since they disappeared from Houston radio in late January, Dean Myers and Roger Beaty, the morning drive-time team known as Dean and Rog, have engaged in some downright odd behavior.

"I haven't bathed in three weeks, and I go for long periods without getting dressed," Myers said. "I watch a lot of TV. I look a little like Joaquin Phoenix now."

"And I've been to every Asian nail shop in Houston," Beaty said. "I didn't realize there were that many, and I still have a lot to go. It's been exhausting, but it's a commitment I've made."

As photographic evidence indicates, they have taken to spending long mornings at the Houstonian's Trellis spa. They wile away their days by the indoor saltwater pool, demanding complimentary manicures and pedicures, snarling insults at passers-by, bullying patrons who sit in their favorite lounge chairs and screaming at attendants to fetch grapes and cookies and ... and ...
